Joe Hulp became a better man through this program. I know everyone constantly says things like this but you can ask my fiancée, my mother, and my sister. I've noticed my change. During these classes my life has had many a trial where if I wasn't in the class, I would've gone to jail or really ~~could've~~ made some ~~small~~ stupid decisions. Learning to handle my emotions that I bottled up was better to release ~~emotions~~ ~~and~~ ~~be~~ controlled. I learned to talk things out, ~~and~~ realize that ~~that~~ I can talk about my feelings, and not worry about looking like an idiot or looked down upon. ~~to~~ My peers have all taught me things as well. Hearing these situations and learning from these positive or negative reactions, I've seen people ~~relapse~~ or give up but stick with it and you can get better. I've learned to have a better relationship with my fiancée; to talk about our problems and have a mature and great conversation. Paying these fees for the class and court fees but this has really helped me be a better man, husband, and father.
